Died in the Court Room.

F. E. Munn, Esq., received a telegram last evening conveying the sad intelligence that his venerable father, Colonel S. W. Munn, of Joliet, Ill., had dropped dead at 3.40 in the afternoon while trying a case in the court room at Chicago. Heart disease was the presumable cause. Colonel Munn was a jurist and barrister of pronounced ability, and well known to many of the old citizens of Omaha. He was colonel of the Thirtyof Omaha. He was colonel of the Thirty-ninth Illinois infantry throughout the rebel-lion, and won exceeding credit for his cour-age and valor. Many of his old companions of the Thirty-ninth are now residents of this city, among whom was Mr. Walker, of the stock yards. Mr. F. E. Munn leaves for Restaurant Men in Trouble. C. A. Hughes, of the Bee restaurant was arraigned before Judge Berka yesterday afternoon on the charge of selling beer after midnight. Hughes is merely an attache of the house, but it was proven on the evidence of Sergeant Haze and Detective Ormsby, who bought a couple of bottles in the place, that he had sold it. He was fined $100 and costs, which he was unable to pay, and will probably go to the county jail.

Isaac Trice was acquitted of the charge of selling liquor after midnight. He was arrested by Detective Ormsby, however, before he left the general rest.

He Flirted With the Tea Caddies. David Pope, a colored gentleman, "bucked" the Overland Tea company in an endeavor to win $50 in cash for the price of a pound of tea. His plan was to discount the tea canister. He was to pay $1 for a pound can of tea, leave the tea with the merchant and get a certain discount for the same. He "blew in' $30 without winning any very large prize and kicked. At last the proprietor gave him a gold (1) watch, Mr. Pope sports a brass watch about the size of a hickory nut at the end of a massive gold cable, which represents his $30. He wanted the police to apprehend L. Epsteyn, the proprictor of the defunct tea company. Epsteyn has fled to St. Joseph.

An Uninvited Crowd.

The prohibitionists had a small torchlight procession and rally at Eleventh and Pacific streets Monday night. They were addressed by Rev. E. B. Graham, the cold-water candidate for congress, Mr. Ashenhurst and Mr. Woodby, a colored preacher. The police were sent for, but failed to materialize, and the speakers had to put up with all manner of interruptions.

"Haw, Grover," shouted the driver, and at the same insignt the great buil whip cracked on the side of a short-horn, the ader in a twelve-bull team that passed up Ninth and Douglas streets at noon. There were two such teams and they attracted much attention as they passed through the city. They were the property of Arnett & Bennett, of Cumberland, Ia. The outfit was on its way from near Missouri Valley to Elkhorn Station where they have a contract for doing a large amount of ditching.

They have held a meeting and appointed a committee, consisted of Adolph Klein, J. Klein, A. Horwitz, A. Bernstein, H. Talmud and A. Monsky, to make the necessary arrangements and secure both hall and teacher. There are sixty children who are ready to go to school and for these it is intended to make preparations immediately. Another meeting will be held in the syna-gogue on Jones between Fourteenth and Fifteenth street on one week from next Sunday. The committee has already received $130 in subscriptions. The school will be supported by subscriptions, tuition being free.

The Loretto Order in Ireland. LINCOLN, Sept. 10.-To the Editor of THE BEE: I received a letter from my youngest sister in Ireland, stating that my eldost sister had been elected superioress general of the order of Loretto nuns in Ireland. This order of nuns has branch convents in all the provinces of Ireland, in England, Scotland, Canada, the United States, and Australia. It is a teaching order, holding the same position in regard to the higher education of ladies that the Jesuit order has in the education of gentlemen The Irish Catholic, a weekly paper published in Dublin by T, D.

Sullivan, M. P., ex-lord mayor of Dublin, prints the following paragraph:
"Mother Mary Michael Coreoran was elected on Saturday, August 23, superioress general of the Loretto order in Ireland. Mother Michael has for some time past held the office of mistress of novices. The election took place at Loretto Abbey, Rathfarnham county, Dublin. His grace, Archbishop Walsh, of Dublin, presided." I trust you will insert this, and thank you in anticipation. Yours Very Truly,

THE CHIEF PUNCHER. A Talk with the Head of the Conductors' Brotherhood. Mr. C. S. Wheaton, grand chief of the Order of Railway Conductors, was met by a reporter at the Murray yesterday. Mr. Wheaton's duties keep him flying over the country much of the time. He reports the order as prospering finely, and upon the subject of the Burlington strike, said:

"Our order, as a body, took no sides in the strike, notwithstanding the talk to the contrary. Some conductors ran lecomotives in the place of the engineers and others were in open sympathy with the strikers, but they acted as individuals. Our order has no control over the action of its members in such matters. It cannot order a man to quit work or to to work. It is an anti-strike organization, and as a body has never had a strike. It does not believe in force as a means of settling its grievances.'

settling its grievances."

The secretary of the order is Mr. W.
P. Daniels of Cedar Rapids, Ia., who has made an effort for several years to locate the headquarters permanently at that city. His plan is to secure that result by the erection of an expensive building. One result of the secretary's efforts, aided by the natural shifting of the center of all things westward the grand center of all things westward, the grand chief's office has been removed from Elmira, N. Y., to the Iowa town. In answer to a query Mr. Wheaton said:

"We are bound to have a permanent home of our own sooner or later. The project was discussed at our last meeting, but the order was not quite ready for it. Favorable sentiment is growing, however, and it is only a question of time. The building will probably be located in Cedar Rapids, which stands ready to help the enterprise handsomely. It is doubtful if any other place

A DARK SECRET.

Suspicious Actions Connected With

Rotholz's Case. There is an undercurrent of dark rumors about the case of one Rotholz, wao was arrested late Sunday night as a suspicious character. Rotholz was a meanly clad fellow but on his person was found $511, and this with his sneaking air and evasive answers have made the police believe that they had captured a most dangerous crook. He is suspected of connection with the disappearance of Charles Collins on Sunday night and the fact that the amount of money on his person was about the same as that carried by Collins only makes the suspicion stronger. The police could get no positive proof of his connection with the affair, but they still believe that Collins has been murdered by some one for his money and they apprehend that Rotholz carries the secret of the crime in his breast. On putting up $475 as security, Rotholz was released Monday to appear for trial at 2 p. m. yesterday. At that hour Bennett, his attorney, appeared in court but Rotholz had disappeared. Bennett, however, had a note signed by Rotholz asking the court to turn the $475 eyer to his attorney. This of the $475 over to his attorney. This, of course, the judge refused to do as there was a strong suspicion of something wrong about the transaction. Before this, Bennett had approached Will Gurley, the assistant district attorney, and offered to spend $100 in helping Gurley politically if that gentleman would assist him in getting the $475 from the judge. Gurley most flatly refused the bribe. The police believe that Rotholz made a full confession of his crime to Bennett and that the attorney managed to get out of him the order for the money by threats of exposure.

THE PATIENTS' COMFORT

Considered by the Architect in the Heating and Plumbing. The county commissioners drove out to the hospital building yesterday with Architect Meyers to look over the building and hear the instructions to be given the contractors and superintendent. "You can put this down," said Mr. Meyers to a Beg reporter, "the contract for the heating and plumbing which we let Monday is for one of the best jobs of work in this to make coffee in the targe urns for the general supply.

"The heating apparatus is just perfect and the only kind suitable for a hospital building. It is the high and low pressure system. In It is the high and low pressure system. In the high pressure part is received the cold air, which is warmed and then passed through to the low pressure department, from which it is sent to the radiators in the rooms and wards. This prevents the admission of any cold air into the pipes in the wards and thus causing any sudden changes of temperature.

"The work when completed will be as perfect as any in the country and the contract is let very close. I am very well satisfied with it."

In June, 1886, Kennedy made a contract with the plow company to act as agent for them in Iowa. He sold a large amount of goods, and had the firm deliver them to him for distribution. He delivered the orders and took notes from the farmers in payment. The firm found later that the most of the paper was valueless, and turned it over to the planntiffs, who think they will be able to hold Kennedy responsible for the amount. John Comstock of Hilmois has sued George F. Wilder in the same court for the posses-sion of a farm in Knox county, Nebraska, which he says the defendant has kept him out of since the 28th of October, 1885.
